has been prominently mentioned, and for that reason many of the officials of the Smithsenian are inclined to discredit th report. It is stated, however, that Prof. Langley has decided upon the recommendation. Mr. Cox has for a number of years occupied his present position, and there seems to be no reason why he is not as eminently qualified to act as assistant se retary of the Smithsonian in charge of the National Museum, which is the title of the

Since the death of the assistant secre-tary, which occurred September 6, the po-sition has been practically vacant, but any daties necessarily involved in the office have Whe useen yesterday Mr. Cox did not deny that he might be a candidate for the place, although he admitted that there were a number of other aspirants in the field. He said he was not aware that he had been selected.

Prof. Langley would not commit himself upon the question, and declined to say whom, if any one, he had chosen to fill Dr. Goode's place. Heretofore a considerable interval has elapsed between department. This will necessitate a vast amount of work, but it is deemed neces-sary, owing to the alleged large number of impostors, who come to the institution, but are in condition to pay for services of a physician.

There has been considerable talk of se-curing an X-ray apparatus for the hos-pital as is used in many of the metropolitan institutions, but nothing definite has been decided upon. Physicians state that such an apparatus would be of vast benefit in the treatment of many cases which con-tinually come up. The cost, however, is said to be great.

Berkeley Pure Rye.

Berkeley Pure Rye Whisky is about as good a liquor as is to be bought anywhere. It is especially good as a tonic where. It is especially good as a tonic and appetizer, and is strongly recommended by physicians. Being made from selected grain, it is absolutely pure. Being aged and mellow, it is free from fusil oil; consequently not injurious when taken in moderation. It makes an agreeable and strigthening beverage, and is excellent either neat, in punch, or fancy driaks. Berkeley Pure Rye Whisky is sold by James Tharp, 812 F street, and a sample bottle will convince you of its excellence and purity.

Rev. H. Mr. Ennis has recently returned from a trip of over 9,000 miles, traversing Canada and British America from Nova Scotla to the Pacific, and has had placed at his disposal the entire set of views belonging to the C. Vigorously Resents the Recently Levied Tonnage Tax.

The formal protest of the German govern-ment against the proclamation of the Presi-dent re-tinposing the touringe tax on German vessels in American ports has been received at the Department of State. The President's reply to this process and his re-assertion of the grounds on which the United States' action has been taken will probably be laid before Congress in the message on Monday next.

a burner was turned on. The body was quite cold when discovered and the young woman had doubtless been dead sometime. Drs. Howard and Deffy were hastily sum-moned, but one glance at the body showed them that the young woman was beyond their aid.

Miss Engle had been employed by Mrs. Kloman for the last seven or eight months and was well liked by the family. She came of a good German family and was caucated far beyond her position. A few days ago she took a civil service examina-tion and was expecting to obtain shortly a position in the government service. Although the young woman had been despondent for sometime past her friends can give no facts which would support a theory of suicide and her death was evidently accidental. Coroner Hammett was no-tified of the case yesterday morning and gave a certificate of accidental death.
